David Weidman's Biography

Born and raised in Easton, PA, David Weidman first answered the call to serve after 9/11 when he enlisted in the United States Air Force. David served more than 6 years active duty USAF, and volunteered for joint service as a US Army Infantryman when the Army was short-staffed. While deployed to Afghanistan, David served in the Panjshir Provincial Reconstruction Team, working hand-in-hand with Afghan civilians and military, bringing stability to the region. His decorated service record includes hundreds of convoys and more than a dozen humanitarian missions, giving David a hands-on perspective of the work our Armed Services performs around the world.

David continued his commitment to service after separating from the USAF and returning home to Pennsylvania. As an undergraduate at Penn State, he served on campus as the vice president of both the Political Society and the Blue and White Warriors Veterans Society. Off campus, he interned with the Lehigh Valley Drug and Alcohol Intake unit, where he saw first hand the suffering caused by addiction in our community. He also continued serving his nation and gained experience as an intern for State Senator Lisa Boscola (D) and US Representative Charlie Dent (R). David earned his Bachelors Degree in Psychology with honors, and went on to provide Autism Support to students at Dieruff HS in Allentown. He currently works as a Behavioral Support Counselor while he pursues his Masters degree in Education. He was a small business owner, and serves as a Commissioner for the Borough of Emmaus where he and his wife Sylvia reside. David and Sylvia are both USAF veterans who have personally experienced, and continue to experience, harassment and discrimination as a multi-racial couple.

David knows we need strong leaders who are willing to make sure all Americans, including and especially our veterans, receive the care and benefits they so desperately need. He will fight against bigotry and racism wherever he finds it. He will work to ensure educators have the necessary resources to help our children succeed, and he will support common sense legislation to benefit and protect all the people who live and work in District 15.
